We'll Be So Busy!

Math - Students will learn how to generate a number or shape pattern that follows a given rule and identify apparent features of the pattern that were not explicit in the rule itself.

Social Studies - In social studies, students will describe the federal system of government in the U.S. (federal powers, state powers, and shared powers).

Language Arts - In reading, students will continue to take notes on the topic they are researching to prepare them to teach the topic to the class. In grammar, students will need to identify the adjectives in the sentence, and determine if the sentence is a simple or compound sentence. In writing, students will begin to write details and examples for their opinion essays.

Science - In science, students will use data collected from weather instruments and weather maps to predict weather events and infer weather patterns.

Class Wish list

Hyon – electric pencil sharpener, Skittles

Baker – Skittles, M&Ms

Nguyen - prizes for the prize bin
